Executive Summary

Texas Emissions Reduction Plan

This fifth biennial report is produced by the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) in fulfillment of the requirements of Texas Health and Safety Code 386.057 and 386.116(d).

The Texas Emissions Reduction Plan (TERP) was established by the 77th Texas Legislature in 2001, through the enactment of Senate Bill (SB) 5. Legislation defines the program objective to reduce nitrogen oxides (NO_x) emissions from older heavy-duty on-road vehicles and non-road equipment by providing grants and rebates for voluntary upgrades and replacements. Since NO_x is a primary precursor to the formation of ground-level ozone, the TERP program targets areas of Texas designated as nonattainment for ground-level ozone under the Federal Clean Air Act (FCAA), as well as near non-attainment areas and areas having an early action compact agreement to address ozone issues. The 41 current TERP-eligible counties are shown on the list and map on the following page. Lowering NO_x emissions from TERP-eligible sources remains a critical strategy for the Texas State Implementation Plan (SIP), which details how the state meets the FCAA.

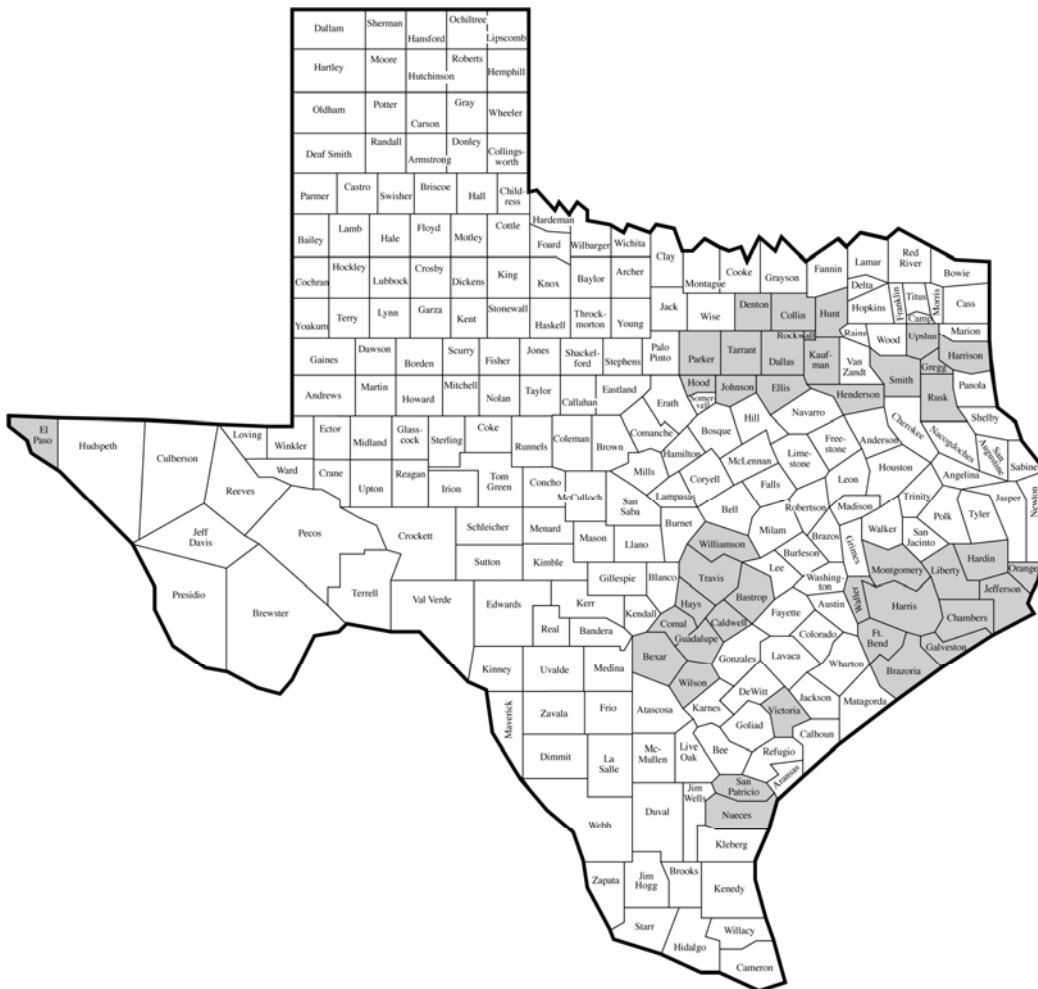

In sum, since fiscal 2002, the TCEQ has issued over $786 million under the primary TERP emissions reduction grant program, representing a total of 7,335 projects, or 12,672 individual pieces of equipment and/or vehicles. From fiscal 2002 through fiscal 2010, this level of activity represents a projected reduction of 158,072 tons of NO_x, or the equivalent average daily reduction of 67.5 tons of NO_x per day in 2011.

During this time, TERP projects have typically included:

- purchases of new, low-emission equipment and vehicles;
- replacement of old, high-emission equipment and vehicles with more efficient, less-polluting models;
- retrofit and add-on devices designed to reduce NO_x emissions from stationary sources, equipment and vehicles; and
- infrastructure to support qualifying fuels, electrification, and reduced idling time.

Since the creation of the TERP in 2001, there have been several key legislative enhancements, additions, and revisions. In 2003, House Bill (HB) 1365, 78th Texas Legislature, established a new revenue source of vehicle title fee increases under Texas Transportation Code 501.138(a–b) to replace the original $225 out-of-state vehicle registration fee, which was determined to be unconstitutional. In addition, under Texas Tax Code 151.0515 the existing surcharge on the sale, lease, or rental of new or used off-road equipment increased from 1 to 2 percent. A one percent surcharge was added for the sale, lease, or use of model 1997 and later heavy-duty diesel on-road vehicles under Tax Code 152.0215(a). The bill added a program for small business grants and increased the number of counties and the types of projects eligible for the Emissions Reduction Incentive and Small Business Grants programs.

In 2003, HB 37 set appropriation levels for various TERP programs. This bill, in conjunction with HB 43, defined roles of the TCEQ and the Texas Council on Environmental Technology in administering the New Technology Research and Development (NTRD) Program.

In 2005, HB 2481, 79th Texas Legislature, established cost-effectiveness limits for locomotive and marine vessel grants. The bill also directed the TCEQ to implement a new Rebate Grants program under the TERP incentive programs. Rebate grants are designed to streamline grant applications, contracting, reimbursement, and reporting for certain projects. The bill transferred the administration and implementation of the NTRD program from the TCEQ to a nonprofit research organization based in Houston. It also repealed the statutory provision requiring the TCEQ to include NTRD information in this biennial report.

Also in 2005, HB 3469 authorized the TCEQ to create and implement a new Texas Clean School Bus Program to provide grants for technologies that reduce diesel-exhaust emissions inside the cabin of a school bus. Approved technologies include closed crankcase filtration systems, diesel particulate filters, and diesel oxidation catalysts. The Texas Clean School Bus Program continues to be very popular. From fiscal 2008 through fiscal 2010, 5,051 Texas school buses have been retrofitted and the number of applications received continues to exceed available funds.

In 2007, SB 12, 80th Texas Legislature, amended the TERP program. The bill raised the maximum cost-effectiveness of a grant project from $13,000 to $15,000 per ton of NO_x reduced. The bill also allowed travel on TCEQ-designated highways and roadways in Texas to count toward the requirement that grant-funded on-road vehicles be operated at least 75 percent of the annual miles in the nonattainment areas and affected counties. In addition, SB 12 added marine vessels to the list of vehicles and equipment for which an electrification or idle-reduction infrastructure project may be funded. The bill authorized the TCEQ to fund other state agencies to lease, purchase, or install idle-reduction infrastructure at rest areas and other public facilities located on major highway transportation routes in eligible nonattainment areas and affected counties.

In 2007, HB 160 added “rail relocation and improvement” as a new category to the list of infrastructure projects that may be funded under the TERP. The new project category was designed to fund rail relocation and improvement projects at major rail intersections in the eligible counties to reduce emissions from locomotive and vehicle engine idling. To date, no projects have been funded under this category, primarily due to the high costs of such improvements relative to the eligible grant amounts based on the cost-per-ton limits.

In 2009, the 81st Texas Legislature modified some existing TERP programs and added new TERP programs with HB 1759 and HB 1796.

SB 1759 established the Texas Clean Fleet Program to provide incentives for owners of large vehicle fleets in Texas to replace diesel vehicles with alternative fuel or hybrid vehicles. This program is authorized through August 2017.

HB 1796 established the NTIG Program to provide incentives for advanced clean energy projects, new technology projects, and electricity storage projects at facilities and stationary sources. This bill also transferred administration of the NTRD program back to the TCEQ from the nonprofit research organization that had been administering the program. In addition, the bill included a new definition of stationary engines under the TERP criteria to authorize grant funding for projects involving gas turbine engines. “Location of use” provisions for projects involving non-road equipment used for natural gas recovery were also added, and the TERP program authorization and fee sources were extended through August 2019.

Programs

Several government agencies, in addition to the TCEQ, are responsible for developing and implementing TERP-related programs, including the Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts (CPA), the State Energy Conservation Office (SECO), the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC), and local governments. The Energy Systems Laboratory (ESL) at the Texas Engineering Experiment Station of the Texas A&M University system assists in energy-efficiency and renewable energy research, along with emissions reduction calculations. A description of each program follows.

Emissions Reduction Incentive Grants Program

Authorized in the Texas Health and Safety Code 386.102, this program is managed by the TCEQ and provides grants to cover the incremental costs of projects in the state’s 41 TERP-eligible counties. Eligible projects include new purchases, replacements, repowers, retrofit technologies, infrastructure, qualifying fuels, and rail relocation and improvement.

Rebate Grants Program

Texas Health and Safety Code 386.117 directs the TCEQ to award rebate grants for on-road heavy-duty vehicles and non-road equipment in the eligible counties. This program features streamlined processes for grant applications, contracting, reimbursement, and reporting. Projects are limited to replacements and engine repowers of on-road vehicles and non-road equipment.

American Recovery and Reinvestment Act Rebate Grants Program

During 2009, the TCEQ utilized federal ARRA funds to implement a supplemental TERP-ARRA Rebate Grants Program consistent with the ARRA recipient requirements and the TCEQ TERP Rebate Grants Program requirements (outlined above).

Small Business Grants Program

Texas Health and Safety Code 386.116 defines businesses that own and operate no more than two vehicles or pieces of equipment, or a combination of the two, one of which must be diesel-powered and a pre-1994 model vehicle—or pieces of non-road equipment with “uncontrolled emissions” as small businesses. The TCEQ continues to fund grants to small businesses under a streamlined and simplified grant application and award process as part of the Rebate Grants Program.

Third-Party Grants

The TCEQ maintains statutory authority to contract with Third Parties to provide grant funds for projects consistent with the TERP guidelines. The TCEQ has awarded four Third-Party Grants to assist with the implementation of TERP projects in eligible areas. These include the Railroad Commission of Texas, to fund propane vehicle and equipment projects; the North Central Texas Council of Governments, to fund various TERP projects, including refuse hauler projects; the Houston-Galveston Area Council, to fund local government projects and projects involving vehicles operating in or near port facilities; and the Texas General Land Office, to fund natural gas vehicle and equipment projects.

Texas Clean Fleet Program

The Texas Clean Fleet Program is a new TERP program established under a new Chapter 391 of the Texas Health and Safety Code. The program provides grant incentives to owners of at least 100 vehicles in Texas to replace a minimum of 25 diesel vehicles with new alternative-fuel or hybrid vehicles.

Texas Clean School Bus Program

The Texas Clean School Bus program, established under Texas Health and Safety Code 390.002 and managed by the TCEQ per 386.052, is designed to reduce emissions of diesel exhaust from school buses throughout the state. Eligible projects may involve emissions-reducing add-on equipment and other applications such as closed-crankcase filtration systems, diesel particulate filters, and diesel-oxidation catalysts.

Heavy-Duty Motor Vehicle Purchase or Lease Incentive Program

The Heavy-Duty Motor Vehicle Purchase or Lease Incentive Program is a statewide program under Health and Safety Code 386.112 to reimburse a purchaser or lessee of an eligible new on-road heavy-duty vehicle for the incremental costs of purchasing or leasing the vehicle in lieu of a higher-emitting diesel-powered vehicle. A heavy-duty vehicle is defined as a motor vehicle with a gross vehicle weight rating of 10,000 pounds or more. This program is managed by the TCEQ, but has not been implemented due to funding constraints.

Light-Duty Motor Vehicle Purchase or Lease Incentive Program

Under Texas Health and Safety Code 386.152, the Light-Duty Motor Vehicle Purchase or Lease Incentive Program is administered by the CPA and the TCEQ. The program provides financial incentives (rebates) for the purchase or lease of an eligible new car or light truck meeting certain EPA emission standards. This program has not been implemented due to funding constraints.

Energy-Efficiency Grants Program

The PUC has jurisdiction over this program, per Health and Safety Code 386.202. The PUC regulates energy-efficiency programs to meet demand-reduction goals in the 41 TERP-eligible counties. The original TERP program included authorization for grant funding to be administered by the PUC. This authorization was removed by HB 1365. However, the PUC administers other energy-efficiency programs and is required to report the results of those programs to the TCEQ. The energy savings achieved may result in corresponding reductions in air emissions.

Texas Building Energy Performance Standards

Local governments have the responsibility for administering and enforcing the standards found in the International Energy Conservation Code and the chapter on energy efficiency in the International Residential Code. The ESL is responsible for assessing the energy savings from adopted energy codes. The Texas Building Energy Performance Standards is authorized by Health and Safety Code 388.003, established by SB 5 in 2001 as part of the TERP. The energy savings achieved may result in corresponding reductions in air emissions.

Energy-Efficiency Programs in Certain Political Subdivisions

Energy-efficiency programs in certain political subdivisions require counties and political subdivisions in the affected areas to establish the goal of reducing energy consumption by 5 percent per year and to implement cost-effective energy-efficiency measures. As required by Texas Health and Safety Code 388.005 and 399.006, organizations report their progress each year to the SECO. The SECO, in turn, is to include information for the TCEQ as part of its TERP reporting.

New Technology Research and Development (NTRD)

Authorized under Texas Health and Safety Code Chapter 387, the primary objective of the NTRD is to promote the development and commercialization of technologies that will support projects that can be funded under the TERP ERIG program. In 2005, HB 2481 transferred the administration and implementation of the NTRD program from the TCEQ to a nonprofit organization in Houston. The program was administered with a contract between the Houston nonprofit organization and the TCEQ. In addition, HB 2481 repealed the statute requiring the TCEQ to report information on the NTRD program to the legislature. In 2009, HB 1796 directed TCEQ to retain administration of the NTRD program and to administer a contract with a nonprofit organization in Houston to manage the close-out of fiscal 2006–09 grant awards issued by that organization.

New Technology Implementation Grants

Authorized under Texas Health and Safety Code Chapter 391, the purpose of the NTIG program is to assist the implementation of new technologies to reduce emissions from facilities and other stationary sources in this state. Grants awarded under this program offset the incremental cost of emissions reductions. Projects considered for NTIG grants include advanced clean energy projects, as defined by Texas Health and Safety Code Chapter 382.003, new technology projects that reduce emissions of regulated pollutants from point sources and involve capital expenditures that exceed $500 million, and electricity storage projects related to renewable energy.

Funding

TERP revenue is allocated through appropriation by the legislature. The revenue allocation for fiscal 2007 through fiscal 2010 are shown in the table below.

Allocation of TERP Revenue

Agency	2007	2008	2009	2010
Texas Commission on Environmental Quality ^a	$128,520,572	$166,921,594	$170,921,594	$154,003,925
Energy Systems Lab	$952,019	$952,019	$952,019	$952,019
Total allocation	$129,472,59	$167,873,613	$171,873,613	$154,955,944
Other fund obligations	$1,360,023	$1,295,000	$1,379,000	$1,236,799

^a TCEQ allocation of TERP revenue per Comptroller records for fiscal 2007 through fiscal 2009. The TCEQ allocation includes funds awarded under grant contract to the TERC to implement the NTRD program and funds allocated to the Texas Clean School Bus Program.

Status and Results to Date

Emissions Reduction Incentive Grants Program

The TCEQ has established guidelines and technical supplements for administering the ERIG Program. Additionally, for every round of funding, a Request for Grant Applications (RFGA) is released. Each RFGA highlights TERP goals, areas and projects eligible for funding, and application details. Cost-effectiveness measures and limits on emission reduction costs per ton are also included in the RFGA.

Since the beginning of the program in fiscal 2002 through August 31, 2010, the TCEQ awarded grants to 7,335 projects under all grant categories for a total of $785,984,949 million. These projects are projected to reduce NO_x emissions by 158,072 tons, representing 67.5 tons per day in 2011, at an average cost per ton of $4,972.

Of the grants awarded, 2,482 are funded under the ERIG Program for $571,611,706. The ERIG projects are projected to reduce NO_x emissions by 129,699 tons, representing 51.9 tons per day in 2011, at a cost per ton of $4,407.

Rebate Grants Program

The Rebate Grants Program has been in place since April 2006. This program uses default factors, including default usage levels, for calculating reductions in emissions. The application process was simplified and maximum rebate-grant amounts are predetermined, so that applicants know how much money they are eligible to receive before applying. The TCEQ has awarded or approved 1,967 rebate grants for a total of $127,380,198. The rebate-grant projects are projected to reduce NO_x emissions by 16,206 tons, representing 9.2 tons per day in 2011, at a cost per ton of $7,860.

Small Business Grants Program

Of the grants awarded or pending contracts, 755 grantees were identified as small businesses. These grants totaled $50,030,057, with projected NO_x emissions reductions of 6,763 tons, representing 3.8 tons per day in 2011, at a cost per ton of $7,398. The TCEQ estimates that many more grant recipients met the definition of small business but did not apply under the rebate grant program.

American Recovery and Reinvestment Act Rebate Grants Program

The federal stimulus moneys for the TERP-ARRA rebate grants included $13,221,528 awarded under a special rebate grant round during 2010. Over 250 ARRA rebate grants were awarded under this special federal stimulus program. The ARRA rebate grants are projected to reduce NO_x emissions in 2011 by 1,354 tons, representing 0.776 tons per day in 2011, at a cost per ton of $9,616.

Third-Party Grants Program

The TCEQ has awarded $77,823,372 in third-party grants to the Railroad Commission of Texas, North Central Texas Council of Governments, Texas General Land Office, and Houston-Galveston Area Council. These grants are currently projected to reduce NO_x emissions by 10,814 tons, representing 5.6 tons per day in 2011, at a cost per ton of $6,840.

Texas Clean Fleet Program

The TCEQ received 13 applications under the first Texas Clean Fleet application period that closed in July 2010. Project selections will be completed and grant awards issued in early fiscal 2011. The initial round of Clean Fleet grant awards is expected to total approximately $12 million.

Texas Clean School Bus Program

Over the 2010-2011 biennium, the legislature appropriated $5,482,540 for fiscal 2010 and $4,165,339 for fiscal 2011 for the Texas Clean School Bus Program to install retrofit devices to reduce diesel exhaust emissions from school buses throughout the state. The TCEQ has also supplemented state funding with federal funding, including $1.73 million in federal stimulus funds from the ARRA, and $470,588 in state clean-diesel funds, awarded by the EPA. The TCEQ was required under an appropriations rider to work with the Texas Procurement and Support Services (TPASS) Division of the Texas Comptroller to establish state contracting for the retrofit devices. TPASS awarded contract pricing and the TCEQ opened a new state-funded grant round for fiscal 2011 to school districts.

Heavy-Duty Motor Vehicle Purchase or Lease Incentive Program

The Heavy-Duty Motor Vehicle Purchase or Lease Incentive Program has not been implemented because of TCEQ funding priorities. Rules and guidelines were adopted in 2001; however, the TCEQ has not allocated funds to this program. Currently, all available TERP funds have been allocated to the other grant programs intended to reduce emissions directly in the nonattainment, near-nonattainment, and Early Action Compact areas. The Heavy-Duty Motor Vehicle Purchase or Lease Incentive Program remains statutorily authorized and could be implemented in the future.

Light-Duty Motor Vehicle Purchase or Lease Incentive Program

The Light-Duty Motor Vehicle Purchase or Lease Incentive Program was suspended by the Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts in 2002. Rules and guidelines were adopted in 2001; however, SB 5, 77th Legislature, directed that the incentive program be suspended if the balance of available funds fell below 15 percent of the total allocated for the incentives during a fiscal year. The primary revenue source for the TERP was to be a fee on out-of-state vehicle registrations. However, that fee was determined unconstitutional and never implemented. As a result of the revenue shortfall, the amount of money available for the light-duty incentive program did not reach the minimum required level and the program was never implemented. Although a new revenue source was established in 2003 by HB 1365, 78th Legislature, the legislature has not appropriated any funds for this program since fiscal 2002. The Light-Duty Motor Vehicle Purchase or Lease Incentive Program remains statutorily authorized and could be implemented in the future, if funding is available.

Energy-Efficiency Grants Program

The PUC administers energy efficiency programs established in 1999 by SB 7, 76th Texas Legislature, and in 2001 by SB 5, 77th Texas Legislature. The funding for energy-efficiency grants under SB 5 was discontinued in 2003. However, the PUC continues to report reductions in energy demand, peak loads, and associated emissions under the SB 7 provisions in Texas Utility Code 39.905. During 2009, utilities cumulatively exceeded goals for savings in demand by 78 percent and saved nearly 559,544 megawatt-hours of energy. The transmission and distributions utilities, which are responsible for implementing the energy-efficiency program, achieved 240.08 megawatts of demand savings during calendar year 2009. Based on the report from the ESL, the cumulative saving from the PUC's SB 5 and SB 7 energy-efficiency programs through 2009 was 2,347,661 megawatt-hours/year.

Texas Building Energy Performance Standards

The ESL also assesses energy savings in nonattainment and affected counties for energy-compliant new construction. The ESL reports an estimated cumulative electricity savings through 2009 for these programs of 1,688,687 megawatt-hours/year, for an estimated cumulative annual NO_x emissions reduction of 1,190 tons.

Energy-Efficiency Programs in Certain Political Subdivisions

The SECO within the CPA worked with local governments to establish and implement goals to reduce electrical consumption by 5 percent per year, beginning January 2002. Additionally, the ESL assists these local governments and submits reports on the estimated energy savings and reductions in NO_x emissions. During the first reporting cycle of SB 12, 80th Texas Legislature, 197 Texas jurisdictions reported adopting the 5 percent energy efficiency goal through 2013 for public facilities to reduce their electricity consumption. The ESL estimates that the cumulative energy savings from energy efficiency commitment could be as high as 457,921 megawatt-hours/year, for an estimated cumulative annual reduction in NO_x emissions of 349 tons.

New Technology Research and Development Program

The TCEQ received 44 NTRD project applications under its first application period in 2010. During this grant round, TCEQ awarded eight grants for approximately $6 million. Examples of the type of NTRD projects funded include testing and development of a zero emission terminal tractor, demonstration of a hydrogen bus and fueling system, and verification and certification testing for a compact selective catalytic reduction system for locomotives and marine engines. An additional NTRD application period is anticipated to open in early fall 2010.

New Technology Implementation Grants Program

The initial NTIG grant application round opened in August 2010. The TCEQ reviewed the proposals for electricity storage projects during September and October, 2010, and expects grant awards to be funded in early 2011. A second NTIG grant application round was opened in October 2010, with funding of awards anticipated by mid-2011.

TCEQ Monitoring Efforts

To minimize the risk of fraud, the TCEQ continues to enforce a three-tiered Quality Assurance and Fraud Prevention and Detection Program. This program evaluates risks and monitors performance in the three main project phases: application, contracting, and tracking and reporting results. Additionally, in 2010, key TERP monitoring staff acquired the credentialing of certified fraud examiners, whose certification denotes expertise in fraud prevention, detection, and deterrence. CFEs are trained to identify the warning signs of fraud and the risk of fraud.

Future Considerations for the TERP Programs

Issues that will be addressed by the TCEQ during the remainder of the 2010–2011 biennium are explained below.

Emissions Reduction Incentive Grants Program

Changes to the federal National Ambient Air Quality Standard for ground-level ozone are forthcoming from the EPA. These changes will most likely increase the number of areas designated as nonattainment areas for ozone and requirements for updates to the State Implementation Plan with extended attainment deadlines. When additional areas are designated as nonattainment areas for ozone, those counties will be added to the list of TERP-eligible counties. The grants will continue to be used to help address the SIP compliance goals, as well as helping other areas remain in attainment.

Cost-per-ton criteria continues to be evaluated each year in relation to the types of projects being submitted by applicants. Adjustments may be considered as appropriate to further encourage applications from targeted emission sectors.

Rebate and Small Business Grant Programs

- The TCEQ will continue to prioritize an annual allocation for the Rebate and Small Business Grant Programs from the overall ERIG funds.

- The Small Business Grants program will continue to be implemented as part of the overall TERP Rebate Grants program.

Third-Party Grants

- The TCEQ will continue the administration and oversight of the Third-Party Grants program and, where appropriate, expand the availability and type of grants to additional state agencies and other authorities, such as local councils of government, where unique opportunities benefit the overall goals of TERP.

Texas Clean Fleet Program

- Under the initial application period for this new TERP grant program, more applications were received than could be funded with the available money. As more entities with large fleets consider using alternative fuels and hybrid vehicles, this program will help encourage owners of large fleets to embrace alternative fuels while achieving needed NO_x reductions.

Texas Clean School Bus Program

- The TCEQ will continue to implement the Texas Clean School Bus Program to help school districts in Texas reduce diesel-exhaust emissions from school buses.

New Technology Research and Development Program

- The NTRD Program will continue to support the encouragement and acceleration of the commercialization of NO_x reduction technologies that could be useful to the state's emission reduction efforts related to the State Implementation Plan. In 2009, HB 1796, 81st Legislature, directed the TCEQ to resume administration of the NTRD program to ensure robust oversight of this research-and-development component to TERP.

New Technology Implementation Grants Program

- The first NTIG grant applications for electricity storage projects will be reviewed during September and October 2010 and funded in early 2011.

Program Monitoring

- As the TERP grant programs have matured, the ongoing usage monitoring of grant-funded projects has become an increasingly large part of their management. The TCEQ will continue to consider enhancements for both monitoring and enforcement to effectively manage such a large grants program.

Legislative Issues

- TCEQ commissioners and other personnel continue to be available to provide analysis, data, research and information that may be needed to assist the legislature in evaluating opportunities for strengthening the TERP as a key component of the Texas air quality strategy.

I. Overview

The 2010 Texas Emissions Reduction Plan (TERP) Biennial Report is submitted by the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) in fulfillment of the requirements of Texas Health and Safety Code 386.057 and 386.116(d).

Purpose

The TERP was established by the 77th Texas Legislature in 2001, through enactment of SB 5. The goals of the TERP, as set forth in SB 5, are to:

- ensure that the air in this state is safe to breathe and meets minimum federal standards established under the Federal Clean Air Act (Section 7407, Title 42, United States Code);
- develop multi-pollutant approaches to solving the state's environmental problems; and
- adequately fund research and development that will make the state a leader in new technologies that can solve the state's environmental problems while creating new business and industry in the state.

The focus of the TERP is to reduce emissions of nitrogen oxides (NO_x) through voluntary financial incentive programs. One of the main drivers for establishment of the TERP was to replace reductions that would have been accomplished through two mandatory measures (time restrictions on use of construction and industrial equipment and the requirement to replace older off-road equipment with new equipment) that SB 5 directed the TCEQ to remove from the State Implementation Plan (SIP) for the Dallas–Fort Worth and Houston–Galveston–Brazoria ground-level ozone nonattainment areas. Projects in other nonattainment areas and affected counties of the state are also eligible for TERP funding. The list of TERP-eligible counties is included in Appendix 1, TERP-Eligible Counties and Map.

Texas Emissions Reduction Plan Advisory Board

The TERP Advisory Board is a 15-member body created under SB 5, 77th legislative session. Five members each are appointed by the governor, lieutenant governor, and speaker of the House of Representatives. The Board also includes seven ex officio members. A list of members is included in Appendix 2, TERP Advisory Board Members.

II. Funding

Revenue

TERP funding sources were first established by SB 5 in the 77th legislative session, with subsequent changes made by HB 1365 in the 78th legislative session. The revenue received into the TERP Fund for fiscal 2006 through fiscal 2010 is listed in Appendix 3, Texas Emissions Reduction Plan Revenue. The current funding sources from the Texas Tax Code and Texas Transportation Code are listed below:

- Tax Code 151.0515(b) and 151.0515(b)(1): A 1 percent surcharge on the sale price or lease/rental amount of off-road diesel equipment sold, rented or leased (effective July 2003, HB 1365 increased the surcharge to 2 percent and added a storage, use, and consumption surcharge added).
- Tax Code 151.0215(a): A 2.5 percent surcharge of the total consideration on sale or lease of model year pre-1997 vehicles over 14,000 lbs (effective July 2003, HB 1365 added the surcharge for the use of such vehicles and a surcharge for 1997 or later model year vehicles of 1 percent).
- Transportation Code 502.1675: A 10 percent surcharge of the total fees due for the registration of truck tractors and commercial motor vehicle.
- Transportation Code 501.138(a): As of July 2003, a portion of the certificate of the vehicle title fee, $20 out of the $33 fee for applicants in the nonattainment counties and $15 out of the $28 fee for applicants in all other counties; and
- Transportation Code 548.5055: A $10 fee on commercial motor vehicles required to be inspected.

Funds Allocation

Texas Health and Safety Code 386.252 directs that the revenue received into the TERP fund be allocated as follows:

- 87.5 percent to be used for the ERIG program.
- 9.0 percent to be used for the NTRD program, of which $500,000 is to be deposited to the Clean Air Account to supplement funding for air quality activities in the 41 counties, and a minimum 20 percent to support air quality research in the Houston-Galveston-Brazoria and Dallas-Fort Worth nonattainment areas; and
- 2.0 percent for the administrative costs associated with the TCEQ's administration of the Texas Emissions Reduction Plan and 1.5 percent for the administrative costs of the Texas Energy

Systems Laboratory, Texas Engineering Experiment Station,
Texas A&M University.

Notwithstanding the allocation formula set forth in Texas Health and Safety Code 286.352, the legislative appropriations under the State Appropriations Act dictate the specific funding amounts that may be used from the TERP Fund and how those funds are allocated. The overall appropriations for fiscal 2006–10 are listed in Appendix 4, Texas Emissions Reduction Plan Revenue Allocation.

III. Program Accomplishments

Emissions Reduction Incentive Grants (ERIG) Program

The ERIG program is managed by the TCEQ and provides grants to fund the incremental costs of projects in the state's 41 ozone nonattainment, near-nonattainment, and early action compact counties. Eligible projects include new purchases, replacements, repowers, retrofit technologies, infrastructure, and qualifying fuels. For a project to be eligible, it must be certified to emit 25 percent less NO_x than the baseline engine, based on the federal standard for that engine. Certification means approved by the EPA, the California Air Resources Board (CARB), or otherwise accepted by the TCEQ.

For each round of grant funding, a Request for Grant Applications (RFGA) was released. With each RFGA, the TCEQ conducted workshops and provided outreach material for potential applicants, along with the program guidelines and technical supplements. Applicants were able to access information via the TERP Web site, <www.terpgrants.org>, and receive assistance from TCEQ staff through the TERP Hotline, 1-800-919-TERP.

Per the Texas Health and Safety Code 386.106, grants may not be awarded to projects that exceed the cost of $15,000 per ton of NO_x emissions reduced. The TCEQ has the authority to set cost per ton limits lower than the maximum amount authorized in the statute. For each RFA round, the TCEQ has established a maximum cost per ton for eligible activities that is less than the statutorily-authorized maximum—currently $5,000 cost per ton maximum for marine and locomotive projects, and $10,000 cost per ton maximum for all other projects.

Also, in 2005, HB 2481, 79th Texas Legislature, directed the TCEQ to establish lower cost per ton limits for locomotive and marine vessel projects than for projects involving other emission sources. Since 2008, locomotive and marine projects have been limited to a cost per ton of NO_x reductions not to exceed $5,000, while other project categories were limited to $10,000. The average cost per ton for all projects funded through August 31, 2010 is $4,972.

A list of the ERIG projects awarded grants fiscal 2002 through fiscal 2010 is provided in Appendix 5, TERP Projects Awarded. The list in Appendix 5 includes information on infrastructure projects funded to date, as required under Texas Health and Safety Code 386.057(b)(2). Appendix 6, Summary of TERP Projects by Area, includes a summary of these projects by area, and Appendix 7, Summary of TERP Projects by Emission Source, includes a summary by emission source.

Since the beginning of the program in fiscal 2002 through fiscal 2010, the TCEQ has awarded grants for 7,335 projects under all grant categories for a total of $785,984,949. These projects are anticipated to reduce NO_x emissions by 158,073 tons, representing 67.5 tons per day in 2011, at a cost per ton of $4,972.

In fiscal 2010, the TCEQ conducted outreach and education efforts, including regional workshops and application assistance activities. Approximately 1,083 ERIG grant applications were received and are under review and analysis. Approximately $100 million in grant funds are available for award to these ERIG applicants. The TCEQ will make the final determination for these ERIG grant selections in early fiscal 2011.

Rebate Grants Program

In 2006, the TCEQ initiated a Rebate Grants program to implement a portion of the TERP, as authorized under Texas Health and Safety Code 386.117, related to implementation of a new Rebate Grants program and 386.116, Small Business Incentives.

The streamlined Rebate Grants Program tested the effectiveness and efficiency of new forms, processes, and procedures. The Notice of Rebate Grants (NRG) invited participants, as well as the public, to comment on the new process. Minor application changes have been made since 2008, based on comments received.

Activities eligible for a rebate grant are intended to reduce NO_x emissions in the designated 41 TERP-eligible counties from on-road heavy-duty diesel vehicles and non-road diesel equipment. Rebate grants continue to be based on pre-approved maximum rebate grant amounts for eligible on-road and non-road replacement and repower projects.

The program is administered under the same ERIG program guidelines, quality assurance, and monitoring procedures.

The Rebate Grants Program continues to be very popular. Of the grants awarded or approved pending contracts through fiscal 2010, the TCEQ has awarded or approved 1,967 Rebate Grants for a total of $127,380,198. These grants are projected to reduce NO_x emissions by 16,206 tons, representing 9.2 tons per day in 2011, at a cost per ton of $7,860. The TCEQ expects to award an additional $20 million in Rebate Grants in late fiscal 2011.

Small Business Grants Program

The Small Business Grants Program targets small businesses and other entities that own and operate no more than two vehicles or pieces of equipment, or a combination of the two, one of which must be diesel-powered and a pre-1994 model year vehicle or non-road equipment with “uncontrolled emissions” as defined in Texas Health and Safety Code 386.116. The program was first established in fiscal 2004.

The program is streamlined for small businesses in the 41 TERP-counties to apply for financial assistance to replace or repower vehicles or equipment, via a simplified application process.

The TCEQ has incorporated the small business grants into the Rebate Grants program. A minimum of $5 million of the rebate grant program funding was set aside for small businesses. The program is administered under the same program guidelines, quality assurance, and fraud prevention and detection program measures.

To date, TCEQ has funded 755 small business projects through various grant programs. These grants total $50,030,057. Small business projects are listed in Appendix 5, TERP Projects Awarded.

American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) Grants Program

The ARRA Grants Program provides federal stimulus funds for the TCEQ to offer additional financial incentives for a TERP-ARRA rebate program for individuals, corporations, organizations, government or governmental subdivisions or agencies, businesses and other legal entities.

To date, the TCEQ has awarded $13,221,528 in ARRA rebate grants. These grants are currently projected to reduce NO_x emissions by 1,354 tons, representing 0.776 tons per day, at a cost per ton of $9,616.

Third-Party Grant Program

The TCEQ continues to issue pass-through grants to third parties to fund projects consistent with the TERP Guidelines. The TCEQ has awarded four third-party grants to assist with the implementation of TERP projects in the TERP-eligible areas: the Railroad Commission of Texas funds propane vehicles and equipment projects; North Central Texas Council of Governments to fund various TERP projects, including refuse haulers; the Houston-Galveston Area Council to fund local government and commercial TERP projects; and the Texas General Land Office to fund natural gas vehicle and equipment projects.

To date, the TCEQ has awarded $77,823,372 in Third-Party grants. These grants are currently projected to reduce NO_x emissions in 2011 by 10,814 tons, representing 5.6 tons per day, at a cost per ton of $6,840.

The third-party grant awards are included in the list provided in Appendix 5, TERP Projects Awarded, and the summary information in Appendix 6, Summary of TERP Projects by Area, and Appendix 7, Summary of TERP Projects by Emission Source. The sub-grants awarded and reported by the third-party sub-grantees are listed individually. Funding that has not been reported by the third-party grant recipients as awarded to a sub-grantee is listed by third-party grant recipient.

Texas Clean Fleet Program

The TCEQ received 13 grant applications under the inaugural Texas Clean Fleet Program application period, which closed in July 2010. The newest addition to the TERP grant programs, the Clean Fleet Program provides financial incentives for entities that own and operate a minimum of 100 vehicles in Texas and plan to replace at least 25 diesel-powered vehicles with grant funds. Clean Fleet application reviews and selections were completed at the end of fiscal 2010, and grant awards will be issued in early fiscal 2011. It is anticipated the initial round of Clean Fleet grant awards will total approximately $12 million.

Texas Clean School Bus Grants Program

Over the 2010-2011 biennium, the legislature appropriated $5,482,540 for fiscal 2010 and $4,165,339 for fiscal 2011 for the Texas Clean School Bus Program to install retrofit devices to reduce diesel exhaust emissions from school buses throughout the state. The TCEQ has also supplemented state funding with federal funding, including $1.73 million in ARRA funds and $470,588 in State Clean Diesel funds awarded by the EPA. The TCEQ was required under an appropriations rider to work with the Texas Procurement and Support Services (TPASS) Division of the Office of the Comptroller to establish state contracting for retrofit systems to be funded under this program. TPASS awarded contract pricing and the TCEQ opened a new state-funded grant round for fiscal 2011 to school districts.

The TCEQ has reimbursed $13,342,689, including all available state funds from fiscal 2008 through fiscal 2010, to 132 school districts. During this time period, 5,051 school buses have been retrofitted with 7,451 individual devices. Because the number of applications received exceeded available fiscal 2009 state funding, some school districts were placed on a wait list. fiscal 2010 state funds have been awarded to three wait-listed school districts. School districts that received funding in fiscal 2009 and fiscal 2010 are listed in Appendix 8, Texas Clean School Bus Grants Program.

The Texas Clean School Bus Program provides grants for technologies that reduce diesel-exhaust emissions inside the cabin of a school bus.

Approved technologies include: closed crankcase filtration systems, diesel particulate filters, and diesel oxidation catalysts.

Heavy-Duty Motor Vehicle Purchase or Lease Incentive Program

The Heavy-Duty Motor Vehicle Purchase or Lease Incentive Program is a statewide TCEQ rebate program to cover the incremental cost difference of purchasing or leasing cleaner heavy-duty vehicles (10,000 pounds or greater). Rules and guidelines were adopted in 2001, but due to reduced revenues, TCEQ has not prioritized funding allocation for this program. Currently, all available TERP funds have been allocated to the other grant programs intended to reduce emissions directly in the nonattainment, near-nonattainment, and early action compact areas.

Light-Duty Motor Vehicle Purchase or Lease Incentive Program

The Light-Duty Motor Vehicle Purchase or Lease Incentive Program is similar to the Heavy-Duty Motor Vehicle Purchase or Lease Incentive Program. However, this program is specifically for light-duty vehicles weighing less than 10,000 pounds. The program is to be administered jointly by the Texas Comptroller and the TCEQ. Rules and guidelines for this program were adopted in 2001. However, SB 5, 77th Legislature, directed that the incentive program be suspended if the balance of available funds fell below 15 percent of the total allocated for the incentives during a fiscal year. Although a new revenue source was established in 2003 by HB 1365, 78th Legislature, no funds have been appropriated for this program since fiscal 2002.

Energy-Efficiency Grants Program

The PUC had jurisdiction for the Energy-Efficiency Grants Program using money from the TERP Fund. In fiscal 2002 and fiscal 2003, the PUC provided grants to electric companies in the TERP-eligible counties to reduce electricity consumption. The PUC approved templates for a variety of energy-efficiency technologies to be implemented that contribute to a reduction in electric consumption. Lower energy consumption results in a reduction in electric production and an avoidance of NO_x producing emissions. Funding for this program was eliminated by the Legislature in 2003.

The PUC continues to have responsibility for the energy efficiency program established by SB 7 in 1999. The 1999 legislation introduced retail competition in the sale of electricity and directed the PUC to establish energy-efficiency programs to meet a specific demand reduction goal. Although the 1999 legislatively-authorized demand reduction goal was not explicitly adopted to reduce air emissions, the energy savings achieved through the energy-efficiency program also provide corresponding reductions in air emissions within nonattainment areas.

The PUC is required to report the reductions of energy demand, peak loads, and associated emissions. The Transmission and Distribution Utilities (TDU), which are responsible for implementing the energy-efficiency program, exceeded their demand reduction goals by 78 percent, and saved nearly 2,347,661 MWh/year of energy. The utilities' program expenditures of $105,810,292 in 2009 will provide customers a total energy cost savings of $559,544 over the ten-year project life of the efficiency measures.

The ESL estimates that these electricity savings could represent up to 1,638 tons of NO_x emissions reductions. Based on estimates from the ESL, the cumulative savings from the PUC's SB 5 and SB 7 energy efficiency programs through 2009 was 2,347,661 megawatt-hours/year. The ESL estimates that these electricity savings could represent up to 1,638 tons of NO_x emissions reductions.

Links to the ESL and PUC reports are provided at the TERP Web site, <www.terpgrants.org>.

Texas Building Energy Performance Standards

Texas Health and Safety Code 388 was created by SB 5 in 2001 to establish new state minimum construction standards for efficiency in buildings and to encourage higher levels of efficiency relative to this new baseline by recognizing locally enhanced codes, above code building performance, and exemplary efforts by publicly owned facilities.

Local governments have the responsibility, per Texas Health and Safety Code 388.003, to administer and enforce the standards found in the International Energy Conservation Code and the Energy Efficiency chapter of the International Residential Code. The ESL is responsible for determining the energy savings from energy code adoption and, when applicable, from more stringent or above code performance ratings. The ESL is required to provide an annual report of these reductions to the TCEQ. The ESL reports an estimated electricity savings on 2009 from these programs of 1,688,687 MWh/year, for an estimated annual NO_x emissions reduction of 1,190 tons.

A link to the ESL's latest reports is provided at the TERP Web site, <www.terpgrants.org>.

Energy-Efficiency Programs in Certain Political Subdivisions

Under Texas Health and Safety Code 388.05, political subdivisions in nonattainment areas or affected counties were required to establish an energy consumption reduction goal of 5 percent per year, beginning January 2002. The role of the State Energy Conservation Office (SECO) is to evaluate the effectiveness of the local entities' efforts and report its findings to the TCEQ. Following passage of SB 5 in 2001, SECO worked with the United States Department of Energy and the EPA to form the Texas Energy Partnership. The Texas Energy Partnership provides leadership and resources for affected jurisdictions in setting goals, determining strategies, and reporting energy savings data and progress. Examples of strategies include locally-mandated or voluntary "green" building energy codes that go beyond the state minimum, street lighting and traffic signal lighting improvements, and energy conservation retrofits for buildings, including lighting, windows, appliances, and cool roofs.

During the first reporting cycle of SB12, 80th Legislature, 197 Texas jurisdictions reported adopting the 5 percent energy efficiency goal through 2013. The ESL estimates that the cumulative energy savings from these changes could be as high as 457,921 megawatt-hours/year, for an estimated cumulative annual NO_x emissions reduction of 349 tons.

Political subdivisions in the 41 TERP-eligible counties continued to develop energy efficiency plans, establish electricity consumption baselines, audit individual facilities, and achieve significant savings. The SECO's 2009 report highlights actions taken by political subdivisions.

Links to the SECO and ESL reports appear at the TERP website, <www.terpgrants.org>.

Energy-Efficiency Programs and the Texas SIP

The programs administered by the Public Utility Commissions (PUC) and State Energy Conservation Office (SECO) under the mandates of the SB 5 (2001) and SB 7 (1999) provide avenues for potentially creditable emission reductions to be claimed in the Texas State Implementation Plan (SIP). Accurate quantification of emission reductions from energy-efficiency and renewable energy is challenging due to the complex nature of the electrical grid system. At any given time, it is impossible to determine exactly where on the electrical grid electricity comes from for any certain electrical user. In order to factor in the degree of the complexity of the electrical grid and the uncertainties in the data and methods used, emission reduction estimates are modified using a discounting formula to arrive at the reduction estimates reported in the SIP. Renewable energy is incorporated into computer models used to forecast ozone levels in future years to predict if a nonattainment area will meet the ozone standard by the attainment date. Emission rates expected based on new and current regulations, population growth, and expected future energy demand are factored into these models, including pollution reductions due to forecasted renewable energy use.

In the past, the TCEQ has specifically included reductions of NO_x from energy-efficiency and renewable energy (EE/RE) in the SIP, as explained below. The current guidance provided by the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) for claiming emission reductions from EE/RE presents additional challenges for taking direct credit for EE/RE measures in areas that have a NO_x cap and trade program. Furthermore, the EPA guidance requires a number of additional commitments for states claiming reductions from EE/RE measures. Given some of the uncertainties associated with ensuring that reductions from EE/RE measures meet the EPA's criteria (quantifiable, permanent, enforceable, and surplus) and current guidance, the TCEQ has in more recent SIP revisions included EE/RE measures in the Weight of Evidence portion of the SIP rather than claim direct creditable reductions in the SIP.

San Antonio area: The November 2004 San Antonio Early Action Compact included 0.06 tons per day (tpd) of NO_x reductions in 2007 from energy-efficiency projects as a result of SB 5 and SB 7. The Energy Systems Laboratory, the Local Metropolitan Partnership for Energy, and the Brooks Energy Sustainability Laboratory of the Texas Engineering Experiment Station developed the methodology used to calculate the reductions.

Dallas-Fort Worth (DFW) area: The April 2005 DFW 5 Percent Increment of Progress SIP included NO_x emission reductions of 0.72 tpd in 2007 for EE/RE programs in the DFW eight-hour ozone nonattainment area. The reductions were calculated based on electricity and natural gas usage reductions from implementation of the May 1, 2001, Texas Building Energy Performance Standards to single and multifamily residences in 2003. These reductions also include less energy use because of energy-efficiency measures implemented by local governments and utilities as reported to the SECO and to the PUC.

Houston-Galveston-Brazoria (HGB) area: As summarized in the December 2002 HGB SIP revision, a methodology was developed to estimate NO_x reductions resulting from EE/RE measures. This method has been improved with the support of the EPA and the Energy Systems Laboratory. The EPA's Emissions and Generation Resource Integrated Database (E-GRID 2007) was used to spatially allocate the energy reductions in each of the eight HGB counties to electric generating units (EGU) located in those counties as well as in counties outside the HGB area. However, in terms of any future additional reductions claimed, this methodology does not address the complication created from the NO_x Mass Emissions Cap and Trade (MECT) program in the HGB area. The MECT program caps the NO_x emissions at point sources, including EGUs in the HGB ozone nonattainment area. If an EGU is located within the HGB ozone nonattainment area and demand on that EGU is reduced due to effective EE/RE programs, then the EGU may emit less NO_x than its cap allows. The EGU could then have excess NO_x allowances that could be sold or traded within the HGB area, which could adversely impact the net reduction of NO_x emissions in the region. House Bill 2129 (2005) required TCEQ to again consider SIP-creditable emission reductions for energy-efficiency programs for the HGB area. TCEQ determined, consistent with the EPA's 2004 guidance regarding SIP credits for emissions reductions from electric sector EE/RE programs, that if an EGU opted to lower its cap because EE/RE measures reduced energy demand, then SIP credit could be provided. However, the EGU could not later increase its energy production without purchasing allowances from other sources.

Alternative Fuel Fueling Facilities Study (SB 1759)

In 2009, the Texas Legislature directed the TCEQ to conduct a study to assess the correlation between the installation of alternative fuel fueling facilities in the ozone nonattainment areas and the deployment of fleet vehicles that use alternative fuels; and to determine the emissions reductions achieved from replacing a diesel-powered engine with an engine utilizing alternative fuels, per SB 1759. For the purpose of the study, the alternative fuels were defined as electricity, compressed natural gas, liquefied natural gas, hydrogen, propane, methanol, or a mixture of fuels containing at least 85 percent methanol by volume.

In addition, the legislature directed the TCEQ to seek approval from the EPA for credit in the state implementation plan (SIP) for emissions reductions as determined through the study that can be: (1) directly attributed to an alternative fuel facility; and (2) achieved as a consequence of an alternative fuel facility encouraging the use of alternatively fueled vehicles.

The finding of the study showed that the expected reductions in nitrogen oxides (NO_x), particulate matter (PM), carbon monoxide (CO), and volatile organic compounds (VOC) emissions from the use of alternative fuels in motor vehicles are diminishing significantly over time and will be near zero by 2018. The recent changes in the federal exhaust emission standards requiring 2007 and newer light-duty and heavy-duty motor vehicle engines to meet the same criteria pollutant standards regardless of operating fuel were identified as the reason future use of alternative fuels show little benefit in reducing emissions from motor vehicles. Due to the lack of future emission reductions from alternative fuel use shown by the study, the TCEQ did not seek EPA approval regarding the use of alternative fuels for SIP credit.

The final report on the findings of the alternative fuel fueling facilities study is available from the TCEQ upon request.

IV. TCEQ Monitoring Efforts

To minimize the risk of fraud, a three-tiered Quality Assurance and Fraud Prevention and Detection Program was developed. Additionally, the TERP staff now includes one staff person who is also a Certified Fraud Examiner (CFE). This credential denotes proven expertise in fraud prevention, detection, and deterrence. The TERP CFE is trained to identify the warning signs and red flags that indicate evidence of fraud and fraud risk, and, in the process, help protect the program by uncovering fraud and preventing fraud from occurring in the first place.

The three levels are listed and described below:

1. The Application phase requires TCEQ to maintain a uniform process when doing application reviews; review and verify technologies; confirm emission reductions and cost-effectiveness calculations; maintain an electronic database; and perform duplicate reviews.
2. The Contract phase requires TCEQ to consistently utilize template documents and obtain approval from TCEQ legal and central contracting offices for each contract; follow written grant management procedures; review reimbursement requests completed by fiscal and program staff prior to program management; maintain an electronic database for contract and fiscal information; perform on-site monitoring visits; and ensure an independent contractor physically verifies grantees' expenditures by performing on-site reviews of records, and confirming the location and use of equipment.
3. The Tracking and Reporting phase requires the TCEQ to ensure grantees track usage and report this usage information to the TCEQ every six months; utilize internal and external auditors to perform desk and on-site reviews of activities; and maintain contract provisions for return of funds if the usage does not meet contract commitments or is not tracked and reported. This phase, along with on-site audits by the TCEQ, verifies the project's actual NO_x emission reductions and usage of the funded vehicle/equipment in the affected areas during the activity life.

Appendix 9, Combined Usage Reporting ERIG/Rebate/Third-Party, includes data from usage reports received by grantees.

V. Future Considerations for the TERP Programs

Issues that will be addressed by the TCEQ in the 2011–2012 biennium are outlined below:

Emissions Reduction Incentive Grants (ERIG) Program

- The priority for use of the grant funds will be to continue to help meet the goals of the SIP.
- Cost per ton criteria will also be evaluated each year in relation to the types of projects being submitted by applicants. Adjustments may be considered as appropriate to further encourage applications from targeted emission sectors.

Rebate and Small Business Grant Programs

- The TCEQ will continue to allocate a portion of ERIG funding for the Rebate Grants program. The Small Business Grants program will continue to be implemented as a part of the Rebate Grants program.

Third-Party Grants Program

- The TCEQ will continue to monitor and administer third-party grants to state agencies and governmental entities. Where appropriate, the TCEQ may expand the third-party grants to additional entities to strengthen the goals of the TERP.

Texas Clean Fleet Program

- The TCEQ will continue to monitor and administer the Texas Clean Fleet Program to continue providing financial incentives to entities owning and operating at least 100 hundred vehicles, with plans to replace at least 25 older diesel-vehicles with cleaner burning, low NO_x emitting vehicles.

Texas Clean School Bus Grants Program

- The TCEQ will continue to implement the Texas Clean School Bus Grants Program to help school districts throughout the state reduce the costs of retrofitting school buses with advanced technological devices designed to reduce diesel exhaust emissions.

New Technology Research and Development (NTRD) Program

- The TCEQ has reassumed full responsibility for establishing NTRD program goals and priorities, and continuing the implementation and monitoring of this TERP research and development program.

New Technology Implementation Grant (NTIG) Program

- The TCEQ will continue the implementation of one of the newest TERP initiatives with the NTIG Program. Notably, while other TERP incentive programs target mobile emission sources, the NTIG program provides unique financial incentives to the owner of a facility anywhere in Texas to help fund stationary emission reductions.

Legislative Issues

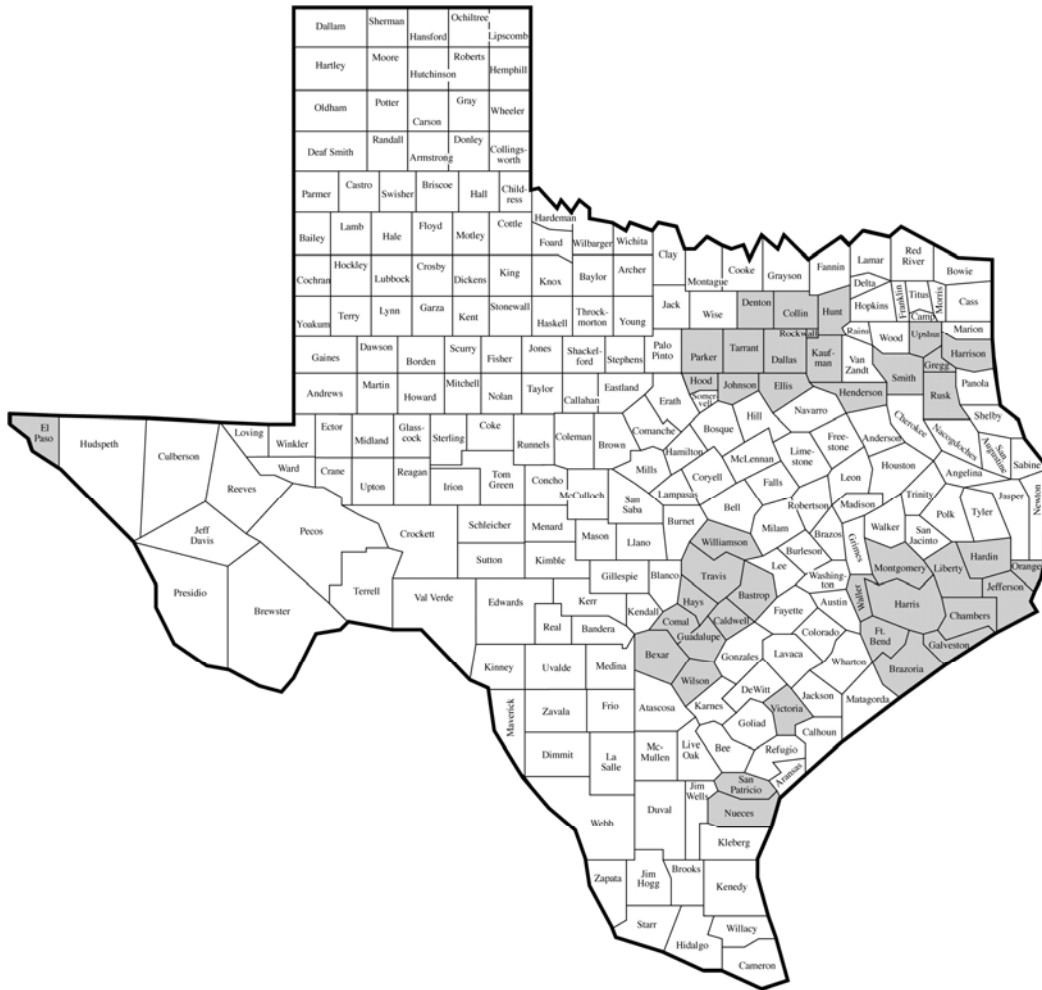

- TCEQ commissioners and staff continue to be available to provide analysis, data, research, and information that may be needed to assist the legislature in evaluating opportunities for strengthening the Texas Emissions Reduction Plan as a key component to the state's air quality strategy.

Appendix 5. TERP Projects Awarded

The following is a list of projects funded to date through the Emissions Reduction Incentive Grants (ERIG) Program. The Project ID represents the year of funding, the grant round, unique project number, and type of grant.

Sample Project ID: 201020351ER

The first four numbers represent the fiscal year of funding. 201020351ER

The next number represents the round of funding during that year.
201020351ER

The following four numbers are the project's assigned number.
201020351ER

The last two letters indicate the type of grant. 201020351ER

ER - Emissions Reduction Incentive Grants

SB - Small Business Grants

RG - Rebate Grants

SR - Small Business Rebate Grants

AR - American Recovery and Reinvestment Act Grants

AB - American Recovery and Reinvestment Act Small Business Grants

RC - Third-Party Grant or Sub-grant/Railroad Commission of Texas
